

Lynn Vanatta

Lynn's life as an artist began early in Summit, NJ at the Summit Art Association. She studied art at Colorado State University. In 1980, she received a BFA in Art Education from the University of Massachusetts in Amherst. Post graduation she founded the Crossroads Studio of Fine Arts in Boxford, Massachusetts, where she offered arts and crafts to children and adult painting instruction.

After relocating to Vermont, she began teaching art classes to special needs adults at A.V.A Gallery in Lebanon, NH and also offered adult oil painting classes at the ArtisTree in Pomfret, Vermont. During the Covid pandemic she taught Zoom art to special needs adults of Zack's Place of Woodstock, VT.
